COMMERCIAL USE:

For use in product creation, images must be used as a component of a product. Visual content must be added, so that images are not given away or sold "as is" (example: flash cards, stand alone images for adding to SOR sound walls, images as clip art.) Images can not be sold or posted on sites that have a Creative Commons license. Products sold using these images must include graphics that have been added, such as borders and sound label text. Pages must be flattened/secured, so that none of the images can be pulled from the product after it has been sold.

Flattening is required for printable products as well as backgrounds in google slides.

Redistribution, re-selling, sharing or giving away images is not allowed. Copyright remains with Speaking of Images.

Images in this set are NOT to be used as moveable pieces.

How to use images for product creation

Images can not be sold or given away as-is in original state. Images must be incorporated into a product by adding text/colored background/graphics. Final product must be a FLATTENED AND SECURE image so that the original photo can not be separated or lifted.
